SUBJECT: Safety Data Sheet(s)

Dear Valued Customer:

The accompanying Safety Data Sheet(s) (SDSs) contain important health and safety information and are being provided based on the products you have ordered or based upon your request. Please replace any previous versions of these documents you may have received with these current versions.

You need to maintain copies of the SDSs in the workplace and ensure that they are readily accessible to employees during each work shift.

As a business where chemicals are either used, distributed, or produced for use or distribution (including if you are a contractor or subcontractor), you must ensure that you are in compliance with all applicable hazard communication laws, rules, and regulations.

Additional SDSs can be obtained by accessing the following website: www.euclidchemical.com

Your SDSs are currently provided to you by either email or by hard copy. If you would prefer to change the method by which you receive your SDSs or should you require additional assistance, please contact our Customer Service Department.
